Dear Sirs:

The Office of Research and Graduate Development of Indiana University is charged with assisting faculty members and students of the University who are seeking potential sources of support for their research, instruction, facilities, and other scholarly activities. We try to match the faculty member or student with the foundation or agency most interested in his/her project.

The Grants Office unit of R&GD is expanding and updating their library and would appreciate receiving from you any information you have that describes your support to higher education, ie., grants, fellowships, scholarships, etc. We would appreciate receiving guidelines, application forms, pamphlets, brochures or annual reports from you for use by our faculty and students.

Thank you for your help.

Yours truly,

Janice McCloud
